Do You Want Any of These?

We are engaged in "weeding out" our stock. The immense business we did in the fall has naturally left us with many odds and ends on hand -one or two of a kind; broken suites, patterns that we cannot duplicate; odd pieces, etc., etc. We want to clear all such goods out before the spring business grows vigorous. Needless to say that we have cut prices most liberally. The things are all of this season's styles and in perfect condition, but we are prepared to sacrifice them in order to keep our stock up to the highest pitch of excellence. There are many superb bargains amongst them, and Credit terms can always be arranged to suit.

"We Know What Belongs to a Watch."

Without wishing to be egotistical we can echa this sentiment of Shakespeare. We know what belongs to a Watch. The Dueber-Hampden Watch Works, Canton, Ohio, is the only factory in the world where a complete watch (case and movement) is MADE AND WAR-RANTED.

"Accurate=to=the=Second"

DUEBER-HAMPDEN WATCHES

Not to be on time is an indulgence no 20th Century business man can afford. Time is money. It is more than that; it is the stuff that eternity is made out of.

THEY ARE "LEVER SET" AND CANNOT "SET" IN THE POCKET, and every watch is so marked that any one can tell its quality. No dealer can deceive you when you purchase a Dueber-Hampden Watch. Look for the name Dueber in the case. Look for these trade marks engraved on the movements:

"JOHN HANCOCK," 21 JEWELS FOR GENTLEMEN
"SPECIAL RAILWAY," 21 AND 23 JEWELS, FOR RAILWAY MEN, ETC

beauty to the White House last night at the dance in honor of the entry of the President's daughter into the rosebud garden of lovely young girls. Many girls have been presented to society amid much more luxurious surroundings, but none have been welcomed in a home whose historic preeminence exceeds all others in our broad ment and with better reason. Relatives of the Roosevelt family came from Boston and New York and girl friends of the debutante with whom she has been associated in school here and elsewhere also took part in the festivity. The entertainment came as near having no official meaning as it is ever possible for any occurrence at the White House .. The decorations were quite as elaborate as customary on great occasions, the great preponderance of roses giving a special significance to the east room, where the mantels were banked with pink and white roses dotted with narcissus, the floral mo-saic being fringed with maiden hair ferns. fluted columns were twined with smilax gar-These waxy green garlands also hung in a pretty arrangement over and about the electric lights in the ceiling and from the crystal chandeliers. The blue room, where such another pretty scene has not been enacted since Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland's wedding night, was decked out in its usual dainty touches of green, in paims and rubber plants and asparagus vine garlands. There was a supper served in the state dining room from a table resplendent with fine furnishings and red flowers.

Mrs. Roosevelt and the debutante re-ceived in the blue room, and shortly after the company began to assemble the dancing was started in the east room, where the floor was covered with crash.

Mrs. Roosevelt, whose very charming and cordial manner makes one keep thinking of herself and not of what she wears, wore a costume of white lace over white silk and a corsage bunch of pink orchids. From a double string of pearls about her neck was suspended a pendant formed of three large Miss Roosevelt, radiant with the happi ness of youth, stood next the mistress of the White House. She is tall and grace ful, has light brown hair, worn in the fluffy style of the moment, and closely resem-bles her distinguished parent, not only in looks, but in manner. Young people like her and no better encomium could be passed upon the cordial associations she has kept up with the companions of a few years back in this city than the fact that they were all present last night. Her comingout dress was of white chiffon, simply made, and with it was worn the appropriate jewelry for a young girl-pearls.

The President did the honors by having and Mrs. Andrews, Miss Ashton, Miss Glover, Miss Barney, Miss Root, Miss Elizthe same liberty as the guests, going about from room to room and everywhere the center of attraction. His sisters, Mrs. Cowles and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, were no less interested participants in the brilliancy of the evening. The group of rela-tives of the debutante from New York and Boston included Miss Helen Roosevelt, to the White House ball.

Miss Helen Cutting, Miss Dorothy Roose-Cordelia Roosevelt-Scovel, Mr. Frederick Roosevelt-Scovel, Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mr. and Mrs. Emlen Roosevelt, Mr. James Roosevelt and Mrs. H. L. Roosevelt. Three-fourths of the dresses worn were white, or in such light colors as to make it a white ball.

A little dance card was handed each guest and form valuable souvenirs of the ball, simple as they were. The program of dances was as follows:

1. Waltz, "The Debutante". Santelmann
2. Two-step, "Volla les Soldats" Ellenberg
3. Waltz, "Theresen". Faust
4. Polka, "The Bride Elect". Sousa
5. Lancers, "The Strollers". Englander

old year out and the new year in. Their house at marine headquarters, one of the oldest mansions in the city, was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and dancing was indulged in by the younger guests in the large drawing rooms to the music of the Marine Band, and card tables were arranged for those of quieter tastes. A sumptuous supper was served, and as the midnight hour approached the whole company of nearly one hundred people formed in a circle and silently waited the close of the year. Just on the stroke of 12 the buglers played taps, the last call for the year 1901. Gen. Heywood, as the sounds died away, moved from his place, wishing every one a happy new year, which was the signal for a general interchange of greetings. Among the guests were Capt. and Mrs. Lemly, Dr.

HENRY. In loving but sad remembrance of my dear husband and our father, BENJAMIN T. HENRY, who fell asleep in Jesus two years ago today, January 4, 1990.

Calm on the bosom of thy God,
Fair spirit, rest thee now;
E'en while with ours thy footsteps trod,
His seal was on thy brow.

Dust to its narrow house beneath,
Soul to its place on high;
They that have seen thy look in death,
No more may fear to die.

BY HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN.

MPHRETS. In loving memory of my dear hus-band, CHARLES HUMPHREYS, who entered into eternal rest one year ago today, January 4, 1901.

Then we shall know as we are known, And then shall be revealed. The reason of our trials here, All which are now concealed.
